VISION . . . The Gay Straight Alliance of Columbus, Indiana envisions a community of the future in which all persons are treated equal by all citizens – where social justice applies to all – where all persons are free to be who they are without fear of persecution or ridicule. Such a community will not hinder the visibility of those persons who are in the minority and will foster understanding, acceptance, and respect of the LGBT community.

The Gay Straight Alliance of Columbus, Indiana is working toward an inclusive community where everyone shares equally the benefits and obligations of a benevolent society and where we can all live to our fullest potential. We are committed to a safe and supportive Columbus where there is full equality and respect for individual dignity.

In this community of the future all citizens whether gay, lesbian, straight, bisexual, transgender or questioning will learn to know and respect each other as individuals, will stand together united for justice and equality, and many collaborations and partnerships will be formed with a cross section of other community groups to further our vision.
